

Whom to Notify

Various people and organisations need to know about a death.

This helps you to finalise the person's affairs and make sure you can get the help you need. This checklist identifies most of the people and organisations you may need to contact.

If your partner has died, you may also need to enquire at your local authorities to have eligibility for concessions or rebate tested, if concession/rebate was previously paid to your partner.

-  Centrelink and or Veterans Affairs
-  Employers
-  Banks and other financial institutions
-  Solicitors
-  Landlord
-  Executor of the will
-  Home care nursing services
-  Public Trustee
-  Dentist and Doctor
-  Australian Taxation Office
-  Post Office
-  Telephone company
-  Medicare
-  Electoral Office
-  Local Authorities (Councils)
-  Health Funds
-  Motor Vehicle Registry
-  Clubs / Organizations
-  Public Services / Libraries
-  Hire purchase / credit card companies
-  Insurers (Life and Superannuation)

24 hours – 7 days. Personal & Professional Attention

